

El Salvador Outdoor Power Wholesale

Overview

How much does a geothermal plant cost in El Salvador?

At an estimated cost of $150 to $200 million, the construction of the two geothermal plants located in eastern El Salvador will be the first new investment in geothermal power in over 30 years, but as of April 2024, the contracts with the awardees are yet to be signed.

Who owns the electricity grid in El Salvador?

El Salvador created a new autonomous entity called ENTE that owns the state-run transmission company ETESAL. ENTE oversees the planning and execution of the national transmission grid expansion. ETESAL builds, maintains, and operates the electricity transmission grid.

Does El Salvador have a trade agreement with foreign investors?

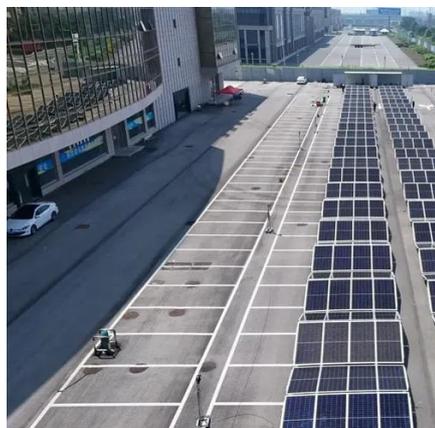

For foreign investors from a country without a trade agreement with El Salvador, amended Article 15 of the Investment Law limits access to international dispute resolution and may obligate the use of national courts. Submissions to national dispute panels and panel hearings are open to the public.

Does El Salvador have a free trade area?

On December 11, 2023, El Salvador and Belize launched negotiations for a PSA. El Salvador, along with Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Panama, signed an Association Agreement with the European Union that establishes a Free Trade Area. The agreement entered into force with El Salvador in 2013.
