The Government of Tajikistan aims to transform itself from a net energy importer to a net energy exporter, on the strength of its potential for hydropower and solar power production. According to the World Bank, Tajikistan's power production is 92 percent hydropower, six percent hydrocarbon, and.

Alongside mass growth in Tajikistan's production of green hydrogen, Juma stated that Dushanbe plans for 10% of Tajikistan's energy production by 2040 to come from other renewable sources such as wind and solar. With an aging electricity supply that relies almost entirely on one source of power.

The proposed project will combine wind, solar, battery energy storage and green hydrogen to help local industry decarbonise. It includes an option to expand the connection to 1,200MW. [pdf] Does South Tarawa need solar power?

Constrained renewable energy development and lack of private sector.

Tajikistan is planning a significant expansion of its solar energy infrastructure in 2025, developing solar electric power stations (SEPS) in every district and city. This initiative addresses the need for backup power at critical facilities, especially during winter months when electricity.
