Tuvalu is making significant strides in its renewable energy sector, with new projects aimed at reducing reliance on imported fossil fuels and combating climate change. In May 2024, the government celebrated a major milestone with the completion of a substantial solar farm on Funafuti, the main.

Tuvalu, a small Pacific Island nation, faces existential threats from climate change, including rising sea levels and increasing energy costs due to reliance on imported fossil fuels. This article explores Tuvalu's journey toward sustainable solar energy solutions as a critical strategy for.

The Tuvalu National Energy Policy (TNEP) was formulated in 2009, and the Energy Strategic Action Plan defines and directs current and future energy developments so that Tuvalu can achieve the ambitious target of 100% renewable energy for power generation by 2020. [1] The program is expected to.
